The remaining twin-engine planes left the field in formations are transferred to airfield station. Soldiers wearing blue, light copaulets loaded the furniture on trucks  Tour railroad cars with tables and stools arrived in Strausberg. This belief is supported by the interaction of the present report coording to which multi-engine aircraft arrived at the Granienburg January.  Since the trains from Strausberg to Rathenow must pass through is selieved that Eathenow was stated as the destination for its and that the trains were unloaded in Granienburg.
